

Course Title: Jurisprudence-II
Course Code: IL-C-603

Course Objective: The purpose of studying Jurisprudence is to study the theory of law and its basic principles and concepts. It provides a clear understanding of law's nature and essential functions, the concept of possession, ownership, property, the relationship between law and justice, law and morals, etc. Any discipline in philosophy, like jurisprudence, is worthy of advancing the aptitude for critical thought in the student. Legal education needs to teach law and its context-social, political and theoretical. At the core of the legal enterprise is the concept of law. Without a profound understanding of this concept, neither legal practice nor legal education can be a purposive activity.

Course Outcome: By the end of this course, the students will understand the realm of questions concerning the nature of law. They can reflect on the questions like what is law, the purposes of the law, the relationship between law and justice and so on. They know the sources of law, various kinds of rights which are, in theory, possible under a legal system. Students can build up a general and more comprehensive picture of each jurisprudential concept as a whole.
