

Course Title: Human Rights
Course Code: IL-C-701

Course Objective: This course is designed to offer the students with following objectives:

- *To provide knowledge regarding the concept of human rights, legal and philosophical conceptions of human rights and duties
- *To explain the classification and interrelationship between different human rights in the light of international covenants on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights and Civil and Political Rights
- *To explain the cultural rights of the indigenous population.
- *The endeavour is to make the students aware of global and regional human rights developments.
- *To examine the protective system and implementation of human and duties with reference to Europe, America and Africa

Course Outcome: The course will enable the students to

- *Understand the development of human rights and duties from the philosophical and historical points of view in a detailed manner
- *To examine the global and regional developments of human rights in various countries, including Europe, America and Africa
- *The course provides the students with the capacity to identify issues and problems relating to the realization of human rights and strengthens the ability to resolve human rights issues and problems. It also develops investigative and analytical skills.