

Course Title: Criminology and Penology
Course Code: IL-C-801

Course Objective: The learning objectives of this module are as follows:

1. To study the meaning, definitions and origins of Criminology, Penology and Victimology.
2. To understand the several theories about the development of Criminology as a subject of Science.
3. To discuss the origin and development of Punishment philosophy.
4. To make students comprehend the genesis, impact, causes, and treatment of crime and criminals.
5. To analyse the various comparative Schools of criminology, penology and victimology.

Course Outcome: Students completing the course will be able to:

- Ascertain the evolution, need and relevance of Criminology.
- Define and describe the role of crime, criminal law and criminals vis a vis nature and scope of punishment as treatment measure of rehabilitation;
- Define the subject domain knowledge of primary philosophical justifications of Criminological schools;
- Analyse and deliberate on opinions regarding National and International efforts for identifying the schools of criminology focusing on the scientific study of criminology;
- Understand the relevant theories of punishment and need to reform penal laws;
- Critically evaluate crime mapping scheme and preventive mechanism;
- Determine the schemes of victim compensation and law; and
- Analyse various Jurists and criminalistics give the various views;

It will help students learn and identify the concerns of offenders and non-offenders and help them capitalise during their professional experience and work.