

Course Title: Police and Criminal Justice System
Course Code: LLM-E-301

Course Objective: The learning objectives of this module are as follows:

1. To discuss and debate the meaning, definitions and Scope of Police Science.
2. To comprehend the theories about Police Science.
3. To discuss the origin and development of Police organisations in India.
4. It will make students research the genesis of Police organisations in different world jurisdictions and make a comparative study on the Police System, including the US, UK, and Australia.
5. To analyse the various comparative schools of thought concerning Police and their various roles in the community.
6. To deliberate upon the need for filling the trust deficit gap between Police and society.

Course Outcome: Students completing the course will be able to:

- Guide them about evolution, need and relevance of Police organisation.
- Describe the role of Police and Community vis a vis nature and scope of reform measures needed in Modern Policing in India;
- Define the subject domain knowledge of major police systems of world and India;
- Analyse and deliberate on opinions formed at various National Police Conferences and Workshops and will help them to research the material on its reforms;
- Understanding of basis of Police System in modern democratic context;
- Examine various recommendations given by Police Commissions and evaluate crime mapping them;
- To determine the schemes related to the upliftment of Police families;
- To analyse the various Police, jail and prison manuals;

It will help students to learn and identify the concerns of police organisations in India.